Scheme for International Force Defeated at Last Night's Meeting

(By the Associated Press)
PARIS—The plenary session of the peace conference this afternoon may mark the conclusion of the first and possibly the most important phase of the work of the world's greatest international gathering.

In the opinion of students of the history of other conferences, the adjournment of today's session may reveal that the foundation for the settlement of all questions that will follow, has been laid. The view taken by many delegates early in the conference was that nearly every important subject to be adjusted depended for satisfactory settlement on the society of nations, which the conference pledged itself at the outset to organize. Thus it became the custom to give a patient hearing to everybody who came to Paris to present the claims of oppressed peoples and then refer the claims to the society of nations to be created.

Preparations have been completed for the homeward voyage of the presidential party, which will leave Paris tonight for Brest and sail tomorrow on the liner George Washington. The large staff of state department experts who came over with Mr. Wilson, will remain in Paris.

The party will comprise President and Mrs. Wilson, David R. Francis, ambassador to Russia, White House employees, secret service men, the 300 soldiers who have formed the guard around the Murat residence, Congressman George White of Ohio, and P. D. Norton, of North Dakota, and representatives of three news associations. It will number 319 persons.

Liner Is Crowded.
All the accommodation of the liner will be utilized, however, for not only will every cabin and stateroom be occupied, but the vast hold will be filled with several thousand American soldiers who have seen service in France and who are going home to demobilization camps.

The agreement on the constitution for a society of nations by the commission which has been framing the plan was effected on Pres. Wilson's lucky day—the thirteenth—and there are just twice 13 articles in the document.

The storm is now moving eastward unusually slowly. Southerly winds with rain and warmer prevail in the east and north winds, snow and colder in the middle and upper Mississippi Valley and on the plains. Gales continue in the upper lake regions. BEVO BUM NAMES PROTECTED BY LAW SAYS JUDGE

Hoppmann Contends That Juvenile Act Prevents Publicity

"There is no excuse for any one under 20 years old being out on the streets after 9 o'clock in the evening," said Judge A. C. Hoppmann, at the meeting held at the high school last night in connection with the Father and Son movement.

"The main reason that there was the organization that became known as the 'Bevo Bums' was because these boys remained around the streets until late at night. I believe that if a boy does not return to his home when he is instructed to, he should be given a good, old style whaling."

Judge Hoppmann then explained that the names of the Bevo Bums were not given for publication because there is a statute that prevents the records of the Juvenile Courts from being published. He also explained that these courts were not places to be feared, but merely a place where the mistakes that boys made could be corrected. He urged all fathers and sons who had trouble to come to him for help.

"The father who works with his son does more for him than the father who works for his son in order to leave him a bunch of money when he dies," said Justice Marvin B. Rosenberry.

"Every father must learn to play with his boy and make him his chum. This is especially true in the city where the father must attend to his business and so does not have the opportunity of being associated with his boy in his work as is the case with the farmer."

Fathers are apt to say 'don't too many times and to refuse to show the son something else to do. I advise every father to get a Boy Scout Handbook and be scoutmaster for his own son. This book will teach a father just how to play with his boy. It also shows how to guide the gang spirit which is so vital to the life of every real live boy. The boy must not be deprived of this gang instinct, but close watch must be kept to see that it is properly taken care of."

Volney G. Barnes, principal of the high school, closed the meeting by showing that the schools were doing all that they could to help the boys and their parents.

KILL FEDERAL OWNERSHIP OF COAL MINES

Resolution to Congress Defeated by a Vote of 44 to 37

Roll Call

Vote on the question of indefinite postponement of government ownership of coal mines:
Opposed to ownership: Ayes—J. C. Anderson, Anson; Best; Bullis; Chapple; Chilsen; Chipman; Czerwinski; Delaney; Donnelly; Edwards; Frohman; Ganz; Gibson; Graess; R. M. Hanson; Helweg; Jensen; A. Johnson; H. F. Johnson; J. E. Johnson; Handtuch; Killa; Kubatzki; Larsen; Markham; Mathison; McDowell; Mitchell; Nolan; Oakes; Olmsted; Owens; Pierson; Porter; Ruka; Schroeder; Sheldon; Smith; Vaughan; Webster; Week; Weeman and Mr. Young—44.

For ownership: Noes—Messrs. Ballard; Bartingale; Bauer; Becker; Burhop; Coe; Conner; Dettinger; Fletcher; Grimsd; C. E. Hanson; J. C. Hanson; Hevett; Jordan; Kane; Klesner; Klein; Knapp; Lerche; Lorfeld; Marth; Maslakowski; Melvin; Metcalfe; O'Brien; Olson; Peterson; Perry; Ploetz; Powers; Roethel; Ruffing; Sell; Sievers; Simpson; Williams and Zarneke—37.

After a long fight the assembly Friday by a vote of 44 to 37 killed the Sievers resolution memorializing congress to pass legislation to immediately take over the coal mines and operate them by the government. Metcalfe charged that the assembly judiciary committee had not given full consideration to the resolution, or it would not have recommended it for death.

Assemblyman T. S. Nolan, Janesville and Assemblyman Oakes, St. Croix, denied that the committee was derelict. Both claimed that Wisconsin had a representation in congress to look after matters. Assemblyman William Olson said that the coal mines belonged to the people and should be preserved for future generations and he declared that the government should own them. Assemblyman J. W. Connor, Douglas county, said the small coal operators would welcome the government taking the mines. The resolution died by a vote of 44 to 37.

Assemblyman Sell offered a resolution on the death of C. E. Estabrook, Milwaukee, which was adopted. Permission was given to the Madison Mozart club to give a concert in the assembly chamber Feb. 26. A letter was received from the junior prom committee of the university accepting the invitation to hold the prom at the capitol the evening of March 28. The municipal policies committee has recommended for passage the Kaney bill for the licensing of electric workers, in villages and cities. The measure is general for the whole state in its application.

Wide Sleights Again
Assemblyman Czerwinski has offered a bill to reimburse highway contractors for losses on state work due to unstable prices. He was also offered a bill for a four year collegiate course in normal schools.
The assembly spent half an hour considering the Coe bill for wide sleights in the state. All amendments were killed and then the house sent the measure back to the state affairs committee for further consideration.
By a viva voce vote the assembly advanced the C. E. Hanson bill giving the legislature power to call an appointive state officer before it to explain his official act. A majority vote of "lack of confidence" by the legislature shall operate to remove the official.
The assembly advanced two bills for amending the municipal court laws in Rock county. It engrossed the Helweg bill to allow papers continued during the war because of the absence of the proprietor in the military service to be permitted to have legal printing. Assemblyman Perry moved an adjournment until 10:30 Tuesday and the motion was carried.

Integrity

(By the Associated Press)

PARIS—The executive council of the proposed league of nations, as outlined in the covenant read by President Wilson today, will consist of representatives of the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy, and Japan, together with representatives of four other states.

The council shall meet as often as is necessary, but at least once a year at whatever place may be designated. Any matter within the sphere of action of the league or affecting the peace of the world will be dealt with.

U. S. to Summon.
The president of the United States shall summon the first meeting of the body of the delegates and the executive council.

The league will have a secretariat under the direction of a secretary-general who shall appoint the other members. The secretary-general shall act in that capacity at all meetings.

The representatives of the high contracting parties and the officials of the league shall have diplomatic privileges and immunities. The buildings occupied by the league or its officials shall enjoy extra-territorial benefits.

The admission of states not signatory to the covenant shall be with the assent of not less than two-thirds of the states represented in the body of delegates and shall be limited to fully self-governing countries.

No state shall be admitted unless it gives effective guarantees to observe international obligations and unless it shall conform to conditions prescribed by the league in regard to its naval and military forces and armament.

To Protect Territory
The high contracting parties undertake to respect and preserve the territorial integrity and political independence of all states members of the league against external aggression.

In case of any such aggression, the executive council shall advise upon the means by which the obligations of the members shall be fulfilled.

The high contracting parties reserve the right to take any action to safeguard the peace of nations in the case of disputes arising between them which diplomacy cannot adjust, the high contracting parties will not resort to war without submitting to arbitration or to an inquiry by the executive council and until three months after action by the arbitrators or the executive council.

The executive council shall formulate plans for the establishment of a permanent court of international justice.

Concerning armaments the covenant says that the maintenance of peace will require the reduction of national armaments to the lowest point consistent with national safety and the enforcement of international obligations by common action, the geographical situations and circumstances of the various states being taken into account.

Shall Fix Armaments
The executive council shall fix the extent of armaments and these shall not be exceeded without the permission of the council.

It is agreed that the private manufacture of munitions and implements of war "lends itself to grave objections." The executive council is directed to give advice on the abatement of this evil.

The contracting parties undertake not to conceal their ability to produce munitions and armaments and

HOUSE VOTES TO LIMIT SESSION TO NINETY DAYS

Ganz Resolution is Advanced for Constitutional Amendment

After nearly two hours of debate
the assembly sent to engrossment, Friday, the Ganz resolution to amend the constitution limiting the length of the legislative session to 90 days, but giving a majority vote in the legislature power to extend the time 20 days additional. Special sessions of the legislature would be limited to 25 days. The vote by which the assembly refused to indefinitely postpone the resolution was 45 to 38. It was then advanced.

It will come up for final passage on Wednesday in the house. On final passage 51 votes are required to pass a constitutional amendment in the house.

Johnson for Plan.
Assemblyman John Kane opposed the fight against the resolution. He believed the legislature should work and not be hampered by limitations. Assemblyman Ganz, Alma, defended his resolution saying that a limitation, such as his resolution proposed, would make the members get to work at once. He said it would save money to the people to have a short session. Assemblyman Axel Johnson said that half of the states had limited sessions of from 40 to 90 days and that no efforts were made in these states to change the rule.

"Wisconsin has a reputation for progressive laws because the members are able to stay here long enough to give consideration to the subject," declared Assemblyman Orrin Fletcher, La Crosse. Assemblyman John Markham, Independence, said Wisconsin had too many laws.

Grass Is Against.
The big fight against the resolution was led by Assemblyman Metcalfe, Milwaukee, and Grass, Sturgeon Bay. Grass said that the 90 day session of the Minnesota legislature was a bad thing in the closing days. The resolution was advanced.

SOFT DRINK CONVENTION HEARS WEIGLE

Question of Broken Bottles is Discussed by the Speakers

Attended by nearly 50 pop manufacturers of the state the soft drink manufacturers' banquet and conference at the Park hotel yesterday and last evening was a notable success. Speakers on the program outlined plans whereby steps could be taken to reduce the loss of bottles sustained by manufacturers yearly which was enthusiastically received by Mayor Sayle of this city who pointed out the danger to children and traffic resulting from the large number of bottles lying about the city during the summer months.

How state-wide organization will tend to the betterment of conditions both for the manufacture and consumer was pointed out by F. A.
Cannon of Madison. Mr. Cannon emphasized the need of such organization to insure success of the end for which manufacturers are striving—putting soft drinks in the place of alcoholic liquors. D. A.
Mordecai of the American Sugar Refining company of Chicago also spoke on the subject of the necessity of raising the standard of quality of soft drinks in order that they might win in the campaign about to be launched.

Cooperation among the bottling manufacturers of the state; cleanliness and quality of product were urged by State Dairy and Food Commissioner George J. Weigle in an address before the Wisconsin Bottlers' convention in session at the Park hotel this afternoon.

Is Now Important

"This industry has become a very important one," said Mr. Weigle.
"New doors have been opened to you, and through the open doors new opportunities are looming large on the horizon. I trust that with these increased opportunities you will continue to maintain a high standard of cleanliness and sanitation and that you will keep before you the ideal of highest quality. We must—about all things —have a high quality article, and a high quality article can only be made by using good fresh raw material, and by maintaining sanitary surroundings for its manufacture.
Quality should be the watchword, and quantity the next consideration.
Wisconsin bottlers are capable of making just as good a ginger ale and soda water as is shipped into the state from outside—if they turn their efforts in that direction.
We want to make Wisconsin's product known all over—just as Wisconsin dairy products are known all over the world. Competition will increase with the enlargement of the field, and it is for us now to exert ourselves more earnestly than ever before to the task of making Wisconsin's beverages more to be desired than those of other states.

"We can do it—let us put our minds and our hearts into the work."
"A test of the quality of an individual is the spirit in which he does his work. If he goes to it grudgingly; if he feels the drudgery in it; if his enthusiasm and love for it do not lift it out of the commonplace and make it a delight instead of a bore, he will never make a very great place for himself in the world.

Do Our Best

"It is only when we do our best,
when we put joy, energy, enthusiasm and zest into our work that we really grow and this is the only way we can keep our highest self-respect. We cannot think much of ourselves when we are not honest in our work; when we are not doing our level best; Your sense of right must guide you; the demand within you to do your level best; to develop the highest in you; to do the square thing. Put your heart into your work.

"And while you are doing your work do not forget that most vital of the principles of progress—cooperation.

"Through cooperation problems deemed almost impossible of solution are brought to settlement; difficulties that seem almost insurmountable are met and overcome; new ideas are received. Without cooperation progress is retarded and interest wanes. And further-than the consideration of the progress of your business is the added personal happiness that results from the pleasant intercourse with men who are interested in the things in which you are interested.
Such relationships are very profitable to you and you have the knowledge that you are aiding others to solve their problems at the same time that they are aiding you to solve yours."

COFFIN STUDIES MOTOR ENGINEERING

Howard E. Coffin, vice president of the Hudson Motor Car company, is traveling in Europe studying the latest developments in aviation and motor engineering. Mr. Coffin's interest in aviation dates back to the early days when, as a highly successful automobile engineer, he gave considerable of his time to the flying art. The excellent work that he did before we entered the war, as chairman of the Industrial Preparedness Committee of the Naval Consulting Board, in co-ordinating the industries of this country for war work, and during the war as chairman of the Aircraft Production board, has now come to be recognized by the allied governments as well as our own.

ADVANCE SALARY POINT EXPLAINED

J. E. Usher Tells of Feature of Will of Late Judge Barnes

Recently some reference was made in the newspapers to a paragraph in the will of the late Judge Barnes regarding the return to the state of unearned salary as a judge of the supreme court. The manner in which the matter was stated gave rise to some misunderstanding and for the reason J. E. Usher, his former secretary, desires to state the fact. Judge Barnes' will was made May 21, 1910, and contained the following paragraph: "The salaries of judges of the Supreme Court are now paid quarterly in advance, and I will and direct that at my death any advance salary unearned by me shall be returned to the state of Wisconsin."

"This system of paying salaries in advance," says Mr. Usher, "was discontinued some years before Judge Barnes resigned from the Supreme Court, which resignation took effect February 22, 1916, and of course this paragraph was of no force or effect after the payment of salaries in advance was discontinued. It was placed there by Judge Barnes to guard against this contingency, namely, if he should die while in office and just after receiving a quarter's salary in advance, he desired that the amount which he had not actually earned be paid back to the state."

STORM CAUSES MUCH TROUBLE

Wire Communication is Demoralized by Wind and Sleet

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO—The storm, accompanied by snow, wind and rain which for 24 hours has demoralized wire communication and railroad traffic in the territory between the Missouri river and the Rocky mountains, and from the Canadian border to Oklahoma, early today was moving eastward with decreasing severity.

While the snow fall in most localities, was comparatively light, high winds especially in Nebraska and western Kansas caused huge drifts which delayed rail traffic. All freight trains are annulled and only a few passenger trains were able to get through the big drifts after hours of delay.

The Dakotas and Minnesota suffered only a moderate snowfall but heavy gales hampered telegraph facilities.

Reports from Iowa state that snow and rain have fallen while in Illinois a heavy rain fell during the night and in some portions there was light snow fall.

RACINE MAYOR ACTS TO HALT BERGER TALK

RACINE — Fearing that there might be trouble, Mayor Thiesen Thursday night sent a letter to the men in charge of the mass meeting, scheduled to be held at the Lakeside Auditorium Saturday night, to be addressed by Victor L. Berger of Milwaukee, requesting them to cancel the meeting. Citizens of Racine by the hundreds have telephoned or called in person on the mayor and aldermen and demanded that the mass meeting be not permitted to be held because of the fact that Berger had been found guilty in a federal court of violating a federal law.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You can Bring Back Color and Lustre with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's come so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and not a medicine. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

SEVERSON'S BILL SHOULD BE PASSED

SENATOR H. J. SEVERSON is rendering a distinct public service to the people of Wisconsin in fighting for a measure which he has introduced to remove the cloak of secrecy from state income tax returns.

The old idea that the business of a corporation is of no concern to the public and that its affairs should be kept private is fast disappearing.

Modern business is becoming too closely associated with the general public welfare to permit of a continuance of the old policy.

With the trend of present day business toward big aggregations of capital which are gradually eliminating competition there are few businesses that are not vested with a public interest.

Surely it cannot be argued that the public has no right to inquire into the business affairs of the Chicago packers; it cannot be argued that the public has no interest in concerns that are exploiting the people on high prices of foods; it cannot be maintained that the public is not interested in any conspiracy of prices.

And what better evidence is there of conspiracy in prices and exploitation of the people than abnormal profits taken from the people.

Because of that fact we find Big Business tenaciously fighting any plan that seeks to give publicity to income tax returns. It seems eminently fitting that Mr. Paul D. Carpenter, who has represented organized wealth in Milwaukee before the legislature for years, should put in an appearance against the bill.

During the year 1916 twenty Wisconsin concerns dealing in coal, clothing, shoes and other necessities made profits of $28,000,000. Those were profits that could not be justified when viewed from the standpoint of the public which had to pay those profits in increased prices on the necessities of life.

The year 1917 will undoubtedly show even higher profits but for some mysterious reason the tax commission has folded the cloak of secrecy around the 1917 returns and the facts are not available.

Isn't it in the interest of the public to know what profits are being made by concerns dealing in food, clothing, shoes, etc.?

The secrecy surrounding income tax returns has done much to permit outrageous profiteering in this country.

The profiteers are all opposed to Senator Severson's bill. They know that if the public could get complete information on their depredations that publicity would compel them to discontinue their despicable filching.

Senator Severson's bill should be passed.

Secrecy is foreign to real Americanism.

No honest man or corporation need fear publicity.

COST OF HEALTH INSURANCE

THE fundamental error of the majority report of the committee to investigate health insurance consisted in regarding expenditure for indemnities as expense. The state is the people, the state treasury is the treasury of the people. The money there is contributed by the people, and when it is disbursed upon their mandate, back to the unfortunate of their number, the question is entirely one of justice and practical efficiency. It is no more entitled to be regarded as an expense than is the income which in the well regulated family is turned over to the wife.

The state is a greater family. The able bodied and prosperous are the bread winners of that family. The sick and the unfortunate are as much entitled to special consideration at the hands of the state, as they are from the members of their individual families.

We do not believe in a pension system. We do not like the theory upon which the government compensates the saviors of the union. But as an example of efficient disbursement of its funds, probably no money expended under any other plan or theory ever contributed so efficiently to the general prosperity of the nation.

The federal pension system was not devised with any view to the promotion of common prosperity. It is paid in health as in sickness, to rich as well as poor. Its basis is one of compensation for services long since rendered. But in effect it has sent ready money into every nook and corner of the land. It has relieved infinite distress, preserved homes, prevented pauperism and oiled the wheels of commerce by enormously stimulating the sale of goods and the flow of wealth.

Now under any well devised system of social insurance these objectives are in direct view; so that the expenditure would come at such times, in such amounts and at such places as would most effectively serve the common good, not alone of the beneficiary, but of the community as well. The result is that the expenditure is, to those sources providing the greater part of the funds, entirely parallel to the expenditure a farmer makes for fertilizer.

The stimulus it would give to trade through the increased demand for all kinds of products; the reduction in bad bills, and general economic loss due to reduced scale of living, would be saved; so that to no one at all would it be a burden, but to every one a blessing.

JUSTICE IS NOT WHOLLY FOR EXPORT

(From The Equity News.)

Millions of Russians starving in an agricultural country after fourteen months of Bolshevism is held by some people to be clinching condemnation of a government that pretends to represent the poor. They forget, of course, the great, almost insurmountable obstacles confronting any government attempting to bring order out of Russian chaos.

It is true, however, that a government that fails to feed its citizens in the midst of plentiful resources and willing workers writes its own death warrant.

Here in the United States we organized production; preached, practiced and compelled economy, and collected billions in taxes and gifts to fight starvation in Europe and Asia. We watched and guarded against famine in far places. Serbia, Armenia, Poland and Belgium were fed even at the expense of our own tables. We learned that famine and suffering anywhere weakens the whole line that battles for humanity and justice.

Even before the signing of peace we are preparing to feed our former enemies. We do this because the war taught that misery anywhere spreads physical, political and moral disease everywhere.

We learned this lesson in war. It applies in peace. We learned it internationally. We must apply it within our own nation.

Famine and suffering in Armenia, Serbia, Poland or Belgium is no worse, nor more dangerous, than in the slums and industrial districts of our own country.

We are justly proud of our response to the cry of the "Fatherless Children of France." We rightly congratulate ourselves upon saving the lives of multitudes of Belgian children. We cannot forever remain blind and indifferent to the terrible infant death rate caused by poverty in America.

Distance may lend enchantment. It does not lessen responsibility. It is Pharisaical to point the finger of scorn at the Bolsheviks for failure to feed Russians while the streets of American cities are filling with unemployed men passing idle factories and untended fields.

We are justly proud of the organizing ability that so quickly assembled and drilled 2,000,000 men and sent them safely across the submarine-infested seas. We have a right to boast of the order and speed with which we built great terminals in France, and conducted unprecedented systems of feeding and caring for these millions of soldiers and other millions of civilians.

In war and in industry we have made good our claim to be the greatest organizers and the wealthiest nation in the world. We can see no limit to our natural resources. Our workers excel all others in skill.

What does all this profit us if we cannot so manage our nation as to provide work and comfort for our citizens? Justice is not wholly for export.—Daily News, St. Paul.

DINNER STORIES

Now, McTavish, said the doctor, it's like this: you've either to stop the whiskey or lose your eyesight, and you must choose.

Aweel, doctor, I'm an auld man now, an' I was thinking I've seen about everything worth seeing.

That tireless war-worker, Lady Victor Paget, tells an amusing story of an enthusiastic V. A. D. nurse who, in past days, was an equally enthusiastic suffragist.

At a base hospital "somewhere in France" she was bandaging a stalwart private whose right arm had been mangled by a fragment of a German shell.

"Do you know," she said presently, "your face seems strangely familiar to me. I've been trying to remember where we've met before."

"Well, nurse," said the wounded man, "perhaps we had better let bygones be bygones. I was a policeman."

"LITTLE WOMEN" AT THE STRAND

William A. Brady presents "Little Women" Paramount-Crescent Special

For half a century, the little women—Meg, Jo, Beth and Amy—immortal characters in American literature, have exercised their charm upon millions of readers. This world-famed story, "Little Women," written by Louisa M. Alcott in 1868, has at length found its way to the screen as it did the stage six years ago. "Little Women," a superb Paramount-Artcraft Special picture, was presented at the New Strand theatre with highly gratifying results yesterday. It will be shown again today and Saturday.

In the audience were scores of women who had read the story when they were young, and they were accompanied by their own children who in turn had found Miss Alcott's book delightful. In the screen adaptation, few of the telling points of the story were sacrificed, and almost every title flashed upon the screen was some well remembered quotation from the book itself and therefore easily recognized by the spectators. The picture, admirably produced and acted, created a profound impression upon the audience.

To attempt at this time to retell the story of "Little Women" would serve about as good a purpose as carrying coals to Newcastle. The story has been faithfully followed by the producers. It tells how Mr. March, a New England chaplain, has gone to the front in Virginia, leaving his wife and four daughters,

Meg, Jo, Beth and Amy with their mother in Concord, Mass. The girls are known as the "Little Women" and they are happy in their mutual love and in their reverence for their mother, whom they call "Marmee."

Mrs. March gets news that her husband is dangerously ill in a hospital in Washington and she sends an appeal to Aunt March, an irascible old woman of wealth, for money to defray the expenses of her trip to Washington. Believing the appeal will be vain, Jo, who is a writer of promise, sells her luxurious hair to a wig-maker for $25 and offers the money to her mother in triumph. It then develops that Aunt March had meanwhile relented and given Mrs. March ample money, so that Jo's sublime sacrifice was useless.

Mr. March is brought home to his family and one by one the girls are married, but Beth, an invalid, clinging weakly to life, finally succumbs, but not until she has embraced Meg's twins. The entire story deals with the pure home life, the joys and sorrows of the March family and their tender devotion to each other. Jo becomes famous as an author, and finally is won as a bride by Prof. Bae. It is a classic of American literature and in screen form none of its beauties are lost.

By truly artistic photography, careful handling of the various characterizations, and an even tempo, this famous classic has been transferred to the screen with much of that atmosphere which will be heartily appreciated by all who have read the book. It is as a breath of spring—sweet and wholesome, and thoroughly delightful to every spectator.

The work of the four actresses who portray the "Little Women," was admirable. Dorothy Bernard as Jo; Isabel Lamon as Meg; Lillian Hall as Beth, and Florence Flinn as Amy, were more than acceptable in their portrayals. Kate Lester was excellent as Marmee, and the Aunt March of Julia Hurley, was most artistic. George Kelson as Mr. March was satisfactory. The cast generally proved to be of the best, the result being an unusually effective ensemble.

The last chapter of the "Lure of the Circus" will be shown Saturday matinee, in addition to the above attraction.

ORPHEUM.

The always interesting news letter in lieu of more exciting film pastime to come the latter part of the week heads the bill at the Orpheum now.

Doherty and Scalia make merry for a few minutes with pleasing music and parodies on popular songs. "Smiles," ever popular, is made to do duty for a clever protest against the amendment which becomes effective July 1, 1919.

"The Deputy," a short comedy singing act, features singing which drew a well deserved encore. One of the principals handles a young siege gun with the ability and abandon of a Jesse James and pleases the audience immensely.

It isn't necessary to have been born in a country town to appreciate Mudtown Vaudeville. Blanche and Jimmie Creighton are the stellar performers. We have all seen similar acts but this has new jokes and a few renewed songs such as "Old Black Joseph and Sweet Alice"

Ben Rivet. It was the best act of the bill.

Five girls, five pianos, and Will J. Ward comprise the next number. They sing and play and finish the amusement of the evening very well.

Travilla, girl and a seal, follow the picture with a diving and swimming act that pleases. Their performance is short and snappy and they certainly are at home in the water.

MAJESTIC

Winifred Allen and Jack Devereaux are featured in the new play called "A Successful Failure" to be shown at the Majestic today. Devereaux appears as a young lawyer; his office and bachelor apartments are one and the same, as compact and ingeniously arranged as a two by four apartment. Miss Allen as Peggy O'Neill, daughter of the chief of police, is the young woman who starts Devereaux on the trail to success. The play abounds in humorous situations.

"THE SPENDER"

The Grand has a production it may well be proud of in "The Spender," Bert Lytell's latest picture. Taken from a Saturday Evening Post story by Owen Bartlett, it raises the quality of human interest to the nth degree and sets forth clear, wholesome philosophy in entertaining fashion. In New York at present there is a play called "Lightin'" generally acknowledged the hit of the season. "The Spender" is of the same caliber as this play. No fast and furious action, but appealing, human action that is divided evenly between comedy, romance and that sincere human interest that never fails to appeal.

WASHINGTON—Favorable report on a bill to regulate the meat industry at this session of congress is planned by the senate agricultural committee, Chairman Gore announced today.
Clarence Ousley, assistant secretary of agriculture, denied that the policy of the North Worth Record, of which he formerly was editor, was influenced by the fact that one stockholder had purchased an interest with money borrowed from bankers.
Mr. Ousley said he favored regulation of the packing industry because "it is impossible to trust anybody

SCHIEDEMANN HITS BISMARCK POLICY

Says it Has Been a Failure; Cites Alsace and Lorraine

(By the Associated Press)
COPENHAGEN—Philip Scheidemann attacks Prince Bismarck's conception of foreign affairs in an article with the Zeitung Am Mittag of Berlin. He says that Bismarck's policy was a failure almost everywhere, adding:
"We had to pay for its mistakes in North Schleswig and in Alsace and Lorraine."
"The policy of new Germany," he continued, "must be based not on Bismarck's planned opposition to, but in harmony with Austria; not on the slender pillar of egotistical might of a single federal government, but on the broad democratic basis of the united will of all the German tribes."

Watch the Little Pimples They Are Nature's Warning

Unightly and Disfiguring Signals of Bad Blood.

Don't close your eyes to the warning which nature gives, when unsightly pimples appear on your face and other parts of the body.

Not only are these pimples and blotches disfiguring, but they lead to serious skin diseases that spread and cause the most discomforting irritation and pain. Sometimes they foretell Eczema, boils, blisters, scaly eruptions and other annoyances that burn like flames of fire and make you feel that your skin is ablaze.

When these symptoms appear on any part of the body, take prompt steps to rid the blood of these disorders.

And the one remedy which has no equal as a purifier is S. S. S., the purely vegetable blood medicine, which has been on the market for more than fifty years. It is sold by druggists everywhere.

If you are afflicted with any form of skin disease, do not expect to be cured by lotions, ointments, salves and other local remedies, as they can not possibly reach the source of the trouble, which is in the blood. Begin taking S. S. S. today, and write a complete history of your case to our chief medical adviser, who will give you special instructions, without charge. PUBLICITY ON LABOR CRISIS INCOME TAX IS BIG TOPIC IS FAVORED IN ENGLAND

Measure Introduced by Peace Conference Has Become Minor Issue in London

By FRED L. HOLMES
Before the senate committee on corporations Thursday, Senator H. J. Severson, Waupaca county, opened his fight in favor of the bill to remove the secrecy clause from state income tax returns. The bill was recommended for passage.

"The secrecy clause will always be a cloak under which dishonest corporations or individuals will hide," charged Senator Severson. "The section of the present income tax law providing that all such returns be kept secret should be repealed."

Senator Severson read the opinion of Attorney General Blaine to the assembly committee on taxation in which it is declared that the secrecy provision in the income tax law operated to palsy the government and its departments in the administrations of the income tax measure.

Carpenter in Opposition
The Severson bill was opposed by Paul D. Carpenter, Milwaukee, representing the Milwaukee Taxpayers' league. He claimed that the secrecy law was important in that it would protect the public interest and declared that these facts were the private property and affairs of corporations and individuals should not be made public.

"Under the federal law nothing can be divulged," said Mr. Carpenter. "Business men hold that their competitors should not know the details of their business and that such disclosures are needless from the point of view of public interest. Full information is at the disposal of the tax authorities who have the power to prosecute. The full return, if made public property, would be the source of annoyance and might result in serious loss."

Severson for Bill.
"I know no reason why this information should be the private property of any official," said Senator Severson. "Banks and trust companies must cause to be published the full details of their business, even to undivided profits and I do not see why any discrimination should be practiced. Taxes are the foundation of government and the public is entitled to know on what they are based."

"Secrecy in this matter is wrong in theory and practice. Why should anyone who has made an honest return object to its being made public? However, if the return is not honest, a reason for keeping it from those who might discover this fact is very evident."

"I do not look on all federal laws as models. Because the federal law seems fit to hide the income of such men as Rockefeller is no reason in my mind why the state should do so. It might as well be argued that the public has no business to know the number of cattle or the amount of machinery owned by a taxpayer, yet that point has never been made and it is recognized that it is essential that such information be public."

Cloak of Dishonesty.
"The secrecy clause will always form a cloak under which dishonest corporations or individuals can hide. It may be argued that the perjury statute can be invoked but it is a well known fact that prosecutions for perjury are almost impossible to carry out. Where the information is secret there are no complaints because no one has access to information on which to base them. The records of the courts will show that there have been prosecutions for perjury in this connection and that law is really no remedy at all."

A similar bill has been introduced in the house by Assemblyman C. E. Hanson of Pierce county.

LABOR CRISIS IS BIG TOPIC IN ENGLAND

Measure Introduced by Peace Conference Has Become Minor Issue in London

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON — Industrial questions in Great Britain, are, for the first time making the peace conference and world reconstruction merely minor issues. The demands of miners and railway men with the high cost of food and other problems of domestic reconstruction, command chief attention from the newspapers and the veteran labor leaders. Wm. Brace and J. H. Thomas, told the House of Commons last night that the country is confronted by the most serious crisis in recent history.

Following the decision of the Miners' Federation to call for a strike ballot, the Federation has issued a reply to the government regarding the miners' demands. This charges the government with trying to turn public opinion against the miners and refuses to accept the data upon which the government based its offer of a shilling a day increase in wages. It says the demand for a 30 per cent increase with a six hour day is designed to raise their standard of living. The demand for the nationalization of the mining industry is reiterated.

GIRLS DISROBE IN LATHROP TANK TO DEMONSTRATE SKILL

Ability to remove clothing, shoes and stockings after jumping dressed into the water, to swim around the tank once with any type of stroke, to swim around it four times with any two other strokes, and to cross it with the back stroke, are the requirements to be met by all contestants for the women's swimming teams which are now holding tryouts.

Four women awarded honors at the first meet held Wednesday evening, were Elizabeth Waterman, Mabel Winter, Margaret Butler and Josephine Bliss, all of whom will receive W. A. A. credit for 5 points.

GOOD BLOOD IS STRONGEST GUARD AGAINST DISEASE

Lost Appetite Recovered When Indiana Woman Took the Tonic Treatment.

Physicians of the country have reached one conclusion from the influenza epidemic which swept over the country. People of low vitality, they declare, were the first to succumb to the infection. Robust people with plenty of good, red blood carry practical immunity to germs for the blood is primed to repel invasion. Thin-blooded, anemic people, however, possess little resistance to invading disease germs.

It is important, therefore, at this time that run-down people, and those suffering from general debility, should do their utmost to restore the blood's combative powers. There is no blood builder that is better fitted to give the blood strength and resistance than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. By conscientiously following directions the patient can restore his appetite, dispense aches and pains and strengthen the stomach and nerves.

Mrs. Harry Depray, of No. 1650 South Third street, Terre Haute, Indiana, was nearly ready to give up hope of recovering strength and happiness when she gave Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial. She describes her experience as follows: "I suffered from general debility following a breakdown in health due to overwork, lack of proper exercise and irregular meal hours. I ate very little because severe stomach pains followed each meal. I lost strength gradually and couldn't sleep. I had continuous pains in my left side and my circulation was so poor that my hands and arms were numb."

"An announcement in a newspaper first drew my attention to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I decided to give them a trial. After a week's treatment my stomach seemed stronger and I continued the treatment until the numbness disappeared from my arms. Now I can eat a meal without any after-distress. I am completely restored to strength now. My daughter has also taken Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and has been greatly benefited."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood. When they do this they tone up every nerve in the body. They drive out of the blood the poison that causes rheumatism. They strengthen the stomach and make digestion thorough and comfortable. Write today to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for the free booklet "Building Up the Blood." Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box or six boxes for $2.50.

COUSINS ASKS PROTECTION OF BANK DEPOSITS

Says Institutions Should Increase Stock With Big Surplus

That state banks should be required to increase their capital stock in proportion to increases in deposits and that there should be further limitations in the law as to the amount of money which can be loaned to a single person, co-partnership or association are two of the legislative recommendations contained in the report of State Banking Commissioner Marshall Cousins, filed with Gov. Philipp today for transmittal to the legislature.

The present law provides that a bank may loan to a person co-partnership, association or corporation an amount equal to 30 per cent of the stock and surplus, which amount, upon a two-thirds vote of the directors, may be increased to 50 per cent.

"In my opinion this limitation is too liberal," says Mr. Cousins in his report. He then recommends changing the limitations on loans to 20 and 30 per cent, respectively.

"I desire to make another recommendation, which has been repeatedly suggested in the reports of my predecessor. It is one which has arisen by reason of the growth of deposits in banks. The deposits in some banks now exceed 30 times the amount of their capital stock."

The report shows that the 141 national banks in the state had total resources at the close of the year of $314,818,000 and that the 778 state and savings banks and trust companies had total resources of $384,563,462.27, or a grand total banking power for Wisconsin of $699,381,462.27. This is an increase of $61,005,703.78 in the total banking power of the state from Nov. 20, 1917 to Nov. 1, 1918.

LOWMAN PLANS
REVENGE UPON
SUCKER SQUAD

Badger Machine in Trim
For Hot Fight
Saturday.

With a strong, smooth-working Badger machine at last developed, Coach Lowman will take his ball tossers to Urbana tonight, confident that he has a new combination the Suckers will not solve as easily as they did here three weeks ago. Illinois will do battle with a rebuilt Cardinal five when the rival teams clash on the enemy floor tomorrow night.

Zulfer at Center.
The Badger line-up that takes the floor against the Illinois will probably be the same that trounced the Iowa quintet Monday night. With Captain Zulfer at center to hold down "Tug" Wilson, the Illinois star, the enemy scoring machine is going to work slower than it did here.

Knapp and Weston are counted on to keep the scorers busy and to aid Zulfer in leading the Badger attack. Knapp is an unknown to the Illinois, as he worked into the game here for only a short period in the second half. With Bauer at the other forward position, the Sucker guards will be called on for some offense. Pease will break up the enemy scoring under the Cardinal goal.

Maroons Meet Northwestern.
Chicago maintained its lead in the conference race by crushing the Purdue five Wednesday night, 20 to 11, chalking up its sixth straight victory. The Maroons will come up against a harder test tomorrow night, with the third place Northwestern five as an opponent. Purdue has little hope of downing the Gophers in their game at Minneapolis tomorrow night. Little interest is attached to the Ohio State-Indiana contest at Columbus.

Should both Minnesota and Chicago finish the conference season without a defeat, chances that the two teams will meet to decide the title are slight. Coach "Pat" Page of the Maroons declares that the financial failure of the football season is one reason why a championship basketball game may not materialize.

EBERT SAYS
HE PLANS FOR DISARMAMENT

Says Army of Defense Will be Raised by Conscription

(By the Associated Press)
WEIMAR — Friedrich Ebert, the president of Germany has announced to newspaper men here that the government is arranging the details for complete disarmament and demobilization.

Count Not Delegate
WEIMAR—Count Von Bernstorff will not go to the peace conference as a German delegate. Germany plans, for the time being at least, a people's army on the basis of general conscription. Germany will announce within a few days her intention to carry out complete disarmament and demobilization, and a commission made up of the center, democratic and socialist parties is now discussing details of the new governmental program.

These points were made by Friedrich Ebert, the new president of Germany in an informal talk with foreign newspaper men today. President Ebert was informally shaken hands with the head of correspondents present, he read a statement and signified his willingness to answer questions.

The question of disarmament was first raised. President Ebert astonished his hearers by his declaration that a commission was already working on the problem. He said Germany in future would have an army of defense. It was at the very end of his talk that he admitted this guard will be raised by conscription.

Hudson Super-Six Gained Its Leadership on the Speedway. It Maintains It With 60,000 Users

The record Hudsons made in the tests that prove endurance are just as important today as they were when made two and three years ago.

That was the only way then in which it could be proved a life car. The abuse which only the speedway and the hardest touring and hill climbing would reveal in a few hours had to be used to demonstrate Hudson limits of endurance. Ordinary driving was too slow.

Now 60,000 users through every kind of service and neglect are individually confirming what was shown in those tests. They have established the leadership of Hudson Super-Six in every way that proves performance and long life.

Rival's Imitations Make It the Pattern Car

Every car produced since Hudson Super-Six design showed the importance of minimizing motor vibration, as it does with its exclusive motor, has reflected Hudson leadership. First it was mechanical leadership. Now it is in body designing as well, that others look to Hudson.

This year's auto shows reveal that influence. Comparison of most cars with earlier Hudson models show it. Present Hudson models in such types as the Sedan, the Touring Limousine, Coupe and others are regarded as forecasts of what others will offer next fall.

When you get a Hudson you may expect to see a similar type on models which others bring out six months to a year hence. But there is a shortage of Hudsons this spring as there has been every spring for the past three years. You should speak early to assure delivery.

agree on a full interchange of information as to military and naval programs.

Article XVI provides that if any party break or disregard its covenants under article XII which provides for arbitration or inquiry by the executive council it shall be deemed to have committed an act of war against all the other members who will take economic and financial measures against it. These measures will refer both to members of the league and those who are not members.

In such a case it will be the duty of the executive council to recommend the amount of naval military forces which each member of the league shall contribute to the armed forces necessary to protect the covenants of the league.

The members of the league agree to mutually support one another financially and economically in any measure taken and also to afford passage through their territory of any forces necessary to carry out the covenants of the league.

In dispute between a member of the league and a state not a member or between states not members of the league, the contracting parties agree that the states not members of the league before the league.

If the states invited to allow the league to adjust their disputes refuse, any action against a state, a member of the league would be deemed to be an act of war against all the other members of the league.

The contracting parties agree that the league shall have general supervision of traffic in arms and ammunition with countries in which such traffic would be against the common interest.

Colonies and territories removed from the sovereignty of the states which formerly governed them and not yet able to stand by themselves shall become the trust of civilization. The tutelage of such countries shall be entrusted to the advanced nations which can best undertake this responsibility.

The tutelage should be exercised by the advanced nations as mandataries on behalf of the league. The character of the mandate will differ according to the various circumstances of the peoples.

The contracting parties will endeavor to secure and maintain fair and humane conditions of labor for men, women and children and agree to establish as part of the organization of the league a permanent bureau of labor.

The members of the league agree to secure and maintain freedom of transit and equitable treatment for the commerce of all members of the league.

It is also agreed to place under control of the league of international bureaus general treaties if the parties to the treaties consent.

All treaties or international engagements entered into hereafter by a member of the league shall be registered with the secretary-general and shall not be binding until registered.

The contracting parties agree that the covenant abrogates all obligations among themselves, which are inconsistent with the terms of the covenant. They engage that hereafter they will not enter into any engagement inconsistent with the covenant.

If any member shall enter into engagements inconsistent with the covenant it shall be the duty of such power to secure its release from such obligations.

Article XXVI, the concluding article, provides that amendments to the covenant shall take effect when ratified by the states represented in the executive council and by three-fourths of the states whose representatives compose the body of delegates.

Here Is Draft of League of Nations to Be Read By Wilson

"Admission to the league of states not signatories to the covenant and not named in the protocol hereto as states to be invited to adhere to the covenant, requires the assent of not less than two thirds of the states represented in the body of delegates and shall be limited to fully self governing countries including dominions and colonies.

"No state shall be admitted to the league unless it is able to give effective guarantees of its sincere intention to observe its international obligations, and unless it shall conform to such principles as may be prescribed by the league in regard to its naval and military forces and armaments.

ARTICLE VIII

The high contracting parties recognize the principle that the maintenance of peace will require the reduction of national armaments to the lowest point consistent with national safety and the enforcement of common action of international obligations having special regard to the geographical situation and circumstances of each state; and the executive council shall formulate plans for effecting such reduction.

The executive council shall also determine for the consideration and action of the several governments what military equipment and armaments are fair and reasonable in proportion to the scale of forces laid down in the program of disarmament; and these limits when adopted, shall not be exceeded without the permission of the executive council.

"The high contracting parties agree that the manufacture by private enterprise of munitions and implements of war lends itself to grave objections and direct the executive council to advise how the evil effects attendant upon such manufacture can be prevented, due regard being had to the necessities of those countries, which are not able to manufacture for themselves, the munitions and implements of war necessary for their safety.

"The high contracting parties undertake in no way to conceal from each other the condition of such of their industries as are capable of being adapted to warlike purposes or the scale of their armaments, and agree that there shall be full and frank interchange of information as to their military and naval programs.

"The high contracting parties shall undertake to respect and preserve as against external aggression the territorial integrity and existing political independence of all states members of the league. In case of any threat or danger of such case a fan ythreat or danger of such aggression the executive council shall advise upon the means by which the obligation shall be fulfilled.

that should disputes arise between them which cannot be adjusted by the ordinary processes of diplomacy, they will in no case resort to war without previously submitting the questions and matters involved either to arbitration or to inquiry by the executive council and until three months after the award by the arbitrators or a recommendation by the executive council and that they will not even then resort to war as against a member of the league which complies with the award of the arbitrators or the recommendation of the executive council.

"In any case under this article the award of the arbitrators shall be made within a reasonable time and the recommendation of the executive council shall be made within six months after the submission of the dispute.

"The high contracting parties agree that whenever any dispute or difficulty shall arise between them which they recognize to be suitable for submission to arbitration and which cannot be satisfactorily settled by diplomacy, they will submit the whole matter to arbitration. For this purpose the court of arbitration to which the case is referred shall be the court agreed on by the parties or stipulated in any convention existing between them.

The high contracting parties agree that they will carry out in full good faith any award that may be rendered. In the event of any failure to carry out the award, the executive council shall propose what steps can best be taken to give effect thereto.

"The executive council shall formulate plans for the establishment of a permanent court of international justice and this court, shall, when established, be competent.

"If there should arise between states members of the league any dispute likely to lead to rupture which is not submitted to arbitration as above, the high contracting parties agree that they will refer the matter to the executive council; either party to the dispute may give notice of the existence of the dispute to the secretary-general, who will make all necessary arrangements for a full investigation and consideration thereof. For this purpose the parties agree to communicate to the secretary-general as promptly as possible, statements of their case with all the relevant facts and papers, and the executive council may forthwith direct the publication thereof. Where the efforts of the council lead to the settlement of the dispute a statement shall be published indicating the nature of the dispute and the terms of settlement, together with such explanations as may be appropriate. If the dispute has not been settled, a report by the council shall be published setting forth with all necessary facts and explanations the recommendation which the council thinks just and proper for the settlement of the dispute. If the report is unanimously agreed to by the members of the council other than the parties to the dispute, the high contracting parties agree that they will not go to war with any party which complies with the recommendations and that if any party shall refuse to comply the council shall propose measures necessary to give effect to the recommendations.

"If no such unanimous report can be made it shall be the duty of the majority and the privilege of the minority to issue statements indicating what they believe to be the facts and containing the reasons which they consider to be just and proper.

The executive council may, in any case under this article refer the dispute to the body of the delegates. The dispute shall be so referred at the request of either party to the dispute provided that such request must be made within fourteen days after the submission of the dispute.

In a case referred to the body of delegates all the provisions of this article and of article XII relating to the action and powers of the executive council shall apply to the action and powers of the body of delegates.

"Should any of the high contracting parties break or disregard its covenants under article XII, it shall thereby Ipso Facto be deemed to have committed an act of war against all the other members of the league, which hereby undertakes immediately to subject it to the severance of all trade or financial relations, the prohibition of all intercourse between their nationals and the nationals of the covenant, and it shall be the duty of the executive council in such case to recommend what effective military or naval force the members of the league shall severally contribute to the armed forces to be used to protect the covenants of the league.

"The high contracting parties agree further, that they will mutually support one another in the financial and economic measures which may be taken under this article, in order to minimize the loss and inconvenience resulting from the above measures, and that they will mutually support one another in resisting all special measures aimed at one of their number by the covenant breaking state, and that they will afford passage through their territory to the forces of any of the high contracting parties which are cooperating to protect the covenants of the league.

"In the event of disputes between one state member of the league and another state which is not a member of the league or between states not members of the league, the high contracting parties agree that the state or states not members of the league shall be invited to accept the obligations of membership in the league for the purposes of such dispute, upon such conditions as the executive council may deem just and upon acceptance of any such invitation the above provisions shall be applied with such modifications as may be deemed necessary by the league.

"Upon such invitation being given the executive council shall immediately institute an inquiry into the circumstances and merits of the dispute and recommend such action as may seem best and most effectual in the circumstances.

"In the event of a power so invited refusing to accept the obligations of membership in the league for the purposes of the league which in the case of a state member of the league would constitute a breach of article XII, the provisions of article XVI shall be applicable as against the state taking such action.

"If both parties to the dispute when so invited refuse to accept the obligations of membership in the league for the purposes of such dispute the executive council may take such action and make such recommendations as will prevent hostilities and will result in the settlement of the dispute.

"The high contracting parties agree that the league shall be entrusted with general supervision of the trade in arms and ammunition with the countries in which the control of this traffic is necessary in the common interest.

"To those colonies and territories which as a consequence of the late war have ceased to be under the sovereignty of the states which formerly governed them, and which are inhabited by peoples not yet able to stand by themselves, under the strenuous conditions of the modern world, there should be applied the principle that the well-being and development of such peoples form a sacred trust of civilization and that securities at performance of this trust should be embodied in the constitution of the league.

"The best method of giving practical effect to this principle is that the tutelage of such peoples should be entrusted to advanced nations who by reason of their geographical position can best undertake this responsibility and that this tutelage should be exercised by them as mandataries on behalf of the league.

"The character of the mandate must differ according to the stage of the development of the people, the geographical situation of territory, its economic conditions and other similar circumstances.

"Certain communities formerly belonging to the Turkish empire have reached a stage of development which their existence as independent nations can be provisional recognized subject to the rendering of administrative advice and assistance by a mandatory power until such time as they are able to stand alone. The wishes of these communities must be a principal consideration in the selection of the mandatory power.

"Other peoples, especially those of central Africa, are at such a stage that the mandatory must be responsible for the administration of the territory subject to conditions which shall guarantee freedom of conscience or religion, subject only to the maintenance of public order and morals, the prohibition of abuses such as the slave trade, the arms traffic and the liquor traffic, and the prevention of the establishment of fortifications or military or naval bases and of military training of the natives for other than police purposes and the defense of territory, and will also secure equal opportunities for the trade and commerce of other members of the league.

"There are territories, such as southwest Africa and certain of the south Pacific Isles which, owing to the sparseness of their population or their small size, or their remoteness from the centers of civilization, or their geographical continuity to the mandatory state and other circumstances, can be best administered under the laws of the mandatory state as integral portions thereof, subject to the safeguards above mentioned in the interests of the indigenous population.

"In every case of mandate, the mandatory state shall render to the league an annual report in reference to the territory committed to its charge.

"The degree of authority, control or administration be exercised by the mandatory state shall, if not previously agreed upon by the high contracting parties in each case be explicitly defined by the executive council in a special act or charter.

"The high contracting parties further agree to establish at the seat of the league a mandatory commission to receive and examine the annual reports of the mandatory powers and to assist the league in insuring the observance of the terms of all mandates.

"The high contracting parties agree that provision shall be made through the instrumentality of the league to secure and maintain freedom of transit and equitable treatment for the commerce of all states members of the league, having in mind among other things special arrangements with regard to the necessities of the regions devastated during the war of 1914-1918.

"The high contracting parties agree to place under the control of the league all international bureaus already established by general treaties if the parties to such treaties consent. Furthermore they agree that all such international bureaus to be constituted in future shall be placed under control of the league.

"The high contracting parties agree that every treaty or international engagement entered into hereafter by any state member of the league shall be forthwith registered ical effect to this principle is that the tutelage of such peoples should be entrusted to advanced nations who by reason of their geographical position can best undertake this responsibility and that this tutelage should be exercised by them as mandataries on behalf of the league.

The wishes of these communities must be a principal consideration in the selection of the mandatory power.

"Other peoples, especially those of central Africa, are at such a stage that the mandatory must be responsible for the administration of the territory subject to conditions which shall guarantee freedom of conscience or religion, subject only to the maintenance of public order and morals, the prohibition of abuses such as the slave trade, the arms traffic and the liquor traffic, and the prevention of the establishment of fortifications or military or naval bases and of military training of the natives for other than police purposes and the defense of territory, and will also secure equal opportunities for the trade and commerce of other members of the league.

"There are territories, such as southwest Africa and certain of the south Pacific Isles which, owing to the sparseness of their population or their small size, or their remoteness from the centers of civilization, or their geographical continuity to the mandatory state and other circumstances, can be best administered under the laws of the mandatory state as integral portions thereof, subject to the safeguards above mentioned in the interests of the indigenous population.

"In every case of mandate, the mandatory state shall render to the league an annual report in reference to the territory committed to its charge.

"The degree of authority, control or administration be exercised by the mandatory state shall, if not previously agreed upon by the high contracting parties in each case be explicitly defined by the executive council in a special act or charter.

"The high contracting parties further agree to establish at the seat of the league a mandatory commission to receive and examine the annual reports of the mandatory powers and to assist the league in insuring the observance of the terms of all mandates.

"The high contracting parties agree that provision shall be made through the instrumentality of the league to secure and maintain freedom of transit and equitable treatment for the commerce of all states members of the league, having in mind among other things special arrangements with regard to the necessities of the regions devastated during the war of 1914-1918.

"The high contracting parties agree to place under the control of the league all international bureaus already established by general treaties if the parties to such treaties consent. Furthermore they agree that all such international bureaus to be constituted in future shall be placed under control of the league.

"The high contracting parties agree that every treaty or international engagement entered into hereafter by any state member of the league shall be forthwith registered with the secretary-general and as soon as possible published by him, and that no such treaty or international engagement shall be binding until so registered.

"It shall be the right of the body of delegates from time to time to advise the reconsideration by states members of the league of treaties which have become inapplicable and of international conditions of which the continuance may endanger the peace of the world.

"The high contracting parties severally agree that the present covenant is accepted as abrogating all obligations inter se which are inconsistent with the terms thereof, and solemnly engage that they will not hereafter enter into any engagements inconsistent with the terms thereof. In case any of the powers signatory hereto or subsequently admitted to the league shall, before coming a party to this covenant, have undertaken any obligations which are inconsistent with the terms of this covenant, it shall be the duty of such power to take immediate steps to procure its release from such obligations.

"Amendments to this covenant will take effect when ratified by the states whose representatives compose the executive council and by three-fourths of the states whose representatives compose the body of delegates."

"The Syrian peoples who have been oppressed for centuries and exploited by all of the European nations for the past few years, look to America as the only nation that can successfully guide and protect them. With the entrance of America the Syrian peoples were filled with the hope that the right of independence was their right." The greatest difficulty of giving these peoples independence lies in the fact that the peoples are so divided into sects and that the greater mass of them are uneducated.

"The American people alone of all powers, having no axe to grind in Syria," are the only people able to give them the friendly aid and protection that they need. The only other alternative to the problem is that the league of nations makes itself the protector and publisher of the country.
